Four Millions Idle
Bibles and Prize Fights
We Rebuke Liberia
Not to the Poor House.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
BETWEEN FOUR and five million people are idle in the United States, according to Chairman Hoover's estimate. President Hoover's commission on unemployment, Fortunate to be safe to say that the bulk of idleness has about the same effect with better conditions.

Big cities might improve their conditions of relieving these unemployed. John Brisbane writes that he saw in New York City several thousand men on the sidewalks on Thursday morning between Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets, and the Franciscan monks on Thirty-first street, and the sickly youths, and the "working men." They were waiting to receive the large sum of 20 cents, and, at the same time, according to Mr. Walker, the city's almshouse, large buildings, nearly closed empty and heated.

OUR CIVILIZATION does fairly well in producing wealth, but it doesn't seem to know quite what to do with the machine breaks down, temporarily.
As for the statement of one gentleman that the Red Cross can attend to present difficulties, that is dangerous doctrine. The Red Cross is not a charity, and even one difficulty of real trouble should start.

An unpleasant incident occurred in Arkansas when farmers came to the town of England entered stores demanding food for their children. They got it.

In Newark, N. J., yesterday a hundred unemployed men led by a "Red" marched on the city hall. The Red Cross is not a charity, and even one difficulty of real trouble should start.

Something more systematic is needed.

OUR NATIONAL "depression" works impartially. Bible society receipts are down for 1930, fewer Bibles sold. And prize fight promoters in New York took in during 1930 $2,200,000 less than they took in the year before.

That will make it necessary for some politicians to look elsewhere for funds needed. But, what a profitable source of supply the prize fight must be!

SECRETARY STIMSON warns the Negro Republic of Liberia that slavery must be abandoned. Investigation proves that high officials of the Negro republic, including the vice president, are engaged in the slave trade, and persist in it.

This seems surprising considering that Liberia was planned as a haven from slavery.

But many of our best people, north and south approved of slavery a little while ago, and we can hardly blame the Liberians for lagging a little behind, especially as slavery is about their only source of profit.

A slave owner gave his slave enough food and clothes to keep him living, and had to worry about him when he sick. In the eyes of Providence, there may not be a difference between bodily slavery and what our Socialist friends call "wage slavery."

PRESIDENT HOOVER, in an encouraging address to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, points out that the millions of Americans using automobiles are "not riding to the poorhouse."

ROBBERS LOOT JEWELRY SAFE IN COLUMBUS

$40,000 in Gems Stolen from Vault by Trio of Men.

POLICE SPREAD DRAGNET

Clerk Forced To Open Vault While Theater Crowds Mill Outside.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—A police dragnet was spread over the city today for three bandits who kidnaped a store clerk, forced him to open the vault, and escaped with $40,000 worth of gems from the Kay Jewelry company, on North High street, last night.

The robbery was not discovered until 2 a. m. when Edward Olander, the clerk, was found by his employer, handcuffed to the vault which contained the loot.

Olander was abducted half a block from his home at about 11 p. m. by the robber trio, who used an automobile similar to one owned by Olander's neighbors. They drove the clerk swiftly through early evening traffic, and when they reached the store, they forced him to open the door, and then unlock the vault.

Brandishing revolvers, they fastened the handcuffs and one of them knelt and scooped up the gems, mostly diamonds.

While hundreds of theatergoers milled on the street outside, they made no escape.

Olander's wife, became worried when he failed to return home. She called Sam Meisner, manager of the store. Meisner discovered the robbery. Police were without definite clues today.

Some of the loot consisted of valuable watches, and the bandits also secured about $1,000 in cash.

ITALIAN OCEAN HOP FATAL TO 5 FLIERS

Three Revealed Injured as Flight Reports Are Issued; 2 Planes Wrecked.

By The Associated Press.
BOLAMA, PORTUGUESE GUINEA, Africa, Jan. 8.—The glory attained by 10 Italian seaplanes Tuesday in their transatlantic flight to Natal, Brazil, has its price—five aviators were left behind, dead, and three were injured. Two of the 14 planes in the squadron were virtually destroyed.

Belatedly, official announcement has been made of the tragedy which attended one of the greatest victories over the elements in the history of aviation, the delay being due to the wish of the Italian government that rejoicing at completion of the flight and celebration of Italy's "Bephaney," or second Christmas, not be marred.

As 12 of the planes, in squadrons of three, took off, one of the red group, piloted by Captain Recagno, crashed from a height of 100 feet. The sergeant mechanic, Luigi Goldi, who was riding alone in the right pontoon, was killed and the right pontoon and the radio operator injured.

Ten minutes after the take-off, the second plane of the white group was forced to alight on the sea at full speed. It took fire and the four crew members perished. They were Captain Luigi Boer and Lieutenant Danilo Barbicanti, pilots, Sergeant Mechanic Felice Nensi and Radio Operator Ercelle Imbastari.

After these two accidents word was flashed to the take off for Natal. Both came down after crossing the equator between St. Paul's rocks and Fernando Do Noronha. Brazilian Penal Colony about 125 miles from Natal.

Italian naval vessels stationed along the route took the planes in tow and brought them to Fernando Do Noronha. After minor repairs have been made the two will continue the flight.

General Balbo intends to lead his squadron to Bahia, a distance of 625 miles, tomorrow.

Mysterious Writer Sends Murder Threats to Rockefeller.

Young and several other prominent people recently have resulted in strengthening of the guards around the Rockefeller estate here.

BEGIN FOURTH DAY OF FLIGHT

Girl Fliers Forced To Flee Los Angeles Airport by Severe Storm.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The kidnapping of Lita Grey Chaplin and Georges Carpentier as they left a theater puzzled police today. Mrs. Chaplin said she was robbed of money and jewelry.

Mrs. Chaplin, former wife of Charles Chaplin, and the one-time heavyweight champion of Europe, told the police they were imprisoned in her limousine by four armed men, driven more than a mile and dumped out last night. Mrs. Chaplin said she lost $14,000 in jewelry.

An related by detectives, Carpentier met the actresses at a Bronx playhouse at the close of her appearance and they entered her car in a dark alley near the stage door. Two men, appearing out of the gloom, pressed revolvers against the chauffeur, Albert Frank, as he stood beside the car and two more cowed the occupants of the tonneau. Frank then was forced inside and one of the hold-up men drove away rapidly.

During the ride Mrs. Chaplin

PRISONERS CREDITED WITH TIME IN JAIL

Governor Cooper Acts in Behalf of 106 Penitentiary Inmates.

Several Marion county prisoners together with more than 100 from other Ohio counties received attention from Gov. Myers V. Cooper today as one of his few remaining official acts.

The governor commuted sentences of 106 prisoners today, just four days before he turns over the reins of government to Governor-elect George White, according to International News Service.

The governor's act applies only to those prisoners who were held considerable length of time in county jails because they could not be accommodated in the Ohio penitentiary following the Easter Monday fire last spring.

The governor's order specifies that the terms of these prisoners shall expire at the time they naturally would have had they been admitted to the penitentiary immediately after being sentenced.

Time spent by prisoners in various county jails in the state varies from three to 69 days. The Marion prisoners, whose names are not available, were held here for nearly two months before being taken to the penitentiary.

DEAN RESIGNS

Trinity Cathedral Leader Quits in Protest to Rented Pews.

By United Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 8.—A controversy over the advisability of allowing free pews in Trinity Episcopal cathedral, church of the bishop of the diocese of Ohio, has led to the resignation of Dr. Francis S. White, dean of the institution for 11 years and exponent of free pews, it was revealed today.

Dr. White, twice president of Cleveland federated churches, consistently has advocated free pews since coming here. Trustees of the cathedral have opposed him throughout, contending a large endowment would be necessary to take the place of income now derived from pew rental.

FARM BUREAU HEARS PALMER OUTLINES AIMS

Head of Ohio Organization Discusses Tax Problems at Meeting of Local Group.

WANTS HIGHWAY POLICE

Columbus Man Proposes Assessment on Luxuries To Provide Public Funds.

A review of the legislative program now under way and the stand of the Ohio Farm Bureau in the tax situation faced by the state legislature were given by L. B. Palmer of Columbus, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, in the annual meeting of the Marion County Farm Bureau in Schwingers' hall yesterday.

Systems of safety police, rural credits, and taxation were the principal ones touched upon by Palmer in his address. His talk followed the election of officers in the afternoon session. Reports were read during the morning session. A basket picnic was held at noon.

Recommendations Rural Police
C. A. Dyer, legislative agent for the Farm Bureau and the Grange, was unable to attend the meeting for his scheduled address during the afternoon session. His work with the legislature prevented him from attending.

A system of highway police would protect not only rural residents but the general public which uses the highways for travel, Palmer pointed out. Reckless driving, and disobedience of state traffic regulations could and would be curbed by such a system, he said.

A bill proposing to establish such a system will come before the legislature, he said. Opposition to the measure by organized labor has been put down, according to Palmer, by inserting a provision in the bill that the police would not be subject to call to put down labor strikes.

A credit union bill, if passed, would enable farmers to borrow money at low interest rates, and would be a distinct aid to many, Palmer said.

School Demands Large
In his discussion of the tax situation, Palmer said that schools and roads are the two big items in the 1931 budget. Budgets for 1931 and 1932 call for an increase of $16,000,000 each year over the figures of the last two years. Of this additional amount, $9,000,000 is asked for colleges, and $3,000,000 in

CLAIM SOLUTION IN SLAYING OF LINGLE

St. Louis Gangster To Be Charged with Murder of Chicago Reporter.

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—A solution of the mysterious murder of Alfred E. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, has been reached, authorities claimed today, with the arrest of Leo Brothers, a St. Louis gangster, who was identified by several witnesses, they said, as the man who shot and killed Lingle last June 9. The identification, they said, was positive.

Brothers, it was revealed by Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state attorney's office, was arrested by three detectives last Dec. 21, in a Chicago apartment after he had been trailed to 12 different cities. He was known in Chicago as Louis "Huster" Bader. He denied he killed Lingle, but admitted, Roche said, he was wanted in St. Louis for the slaying of John Doe, a service car driver.

"This man will sit in the electric chair for the murder of Alfred E. Lingle," Roche told newspapermen. "I make my official reputation on that. If he is not the killer, then Lingle is still alive."

One Question Unanswered
Neither Roche or State's Attorney John A. Swanson, however, would reveal if they had uncovered the answer to the all-absorbing question in Chicago crime in recent years, namely, "why was Lingle killed?"

There was an unofficial report that the investigators have been working on the theory that the Tribune reporter was put to death because he had incurred the enmity of gamblers whom he had harassed. Nor would the officials give out a list of the names of the persons who made the reported identification.

This information, Roche indicated, would be withheld until the facts of the mystery are more definitely determined. Roche was asked by a reporter if any higher-ups were being sought or any other persons.

And his answer was:
"We have a lot of work yet to do."

Brothers' movements were known for days before his arrest.

GUN BATTLES TAKE 2 LIVES

Cleveland Patrolman, Telegraph Operator, Killed by Bullets of Gunmen.

SECOND OFFICER WOUNDED

Former Convict Shot, Captured; Will Be Charged with Murder.

By The Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 8.—Gun fights with criminals cost the lives of two men here today and three others were wounded.

Patrolman James Ryan, 37, and Albert Burke, 43, an American district telegraph operator, died a few hours after they were shot. Patrolman John Cleary was paralyzed for life from a bullet in his spine.

Ryan and Cleary were shot last night by an ex-convict when they went to his room in a cheap west side flat to arrest him. Police said the killer was John W. Glascock, alias Jack McCarthy, 37, who had served time in the Joliet, Ill., prison for a bank robbery. He also was wounded but was expected to recover, and will be charged with first degree murder.

Glascock dashed from his room fleeing. Cleary fell before he had a chance to use his gun. Blazing away at Ryan, Glascock fired to a few steps, but fell mortally wounded.

Badly hurt, Glascock made his way to a nearby house where he hid himself. The residents into hiding him, but the trail of blood his wound left on the snow led to his capture.

Burke received his fatal wound early today in an exchange of shots with two unidentified men who had broken a window in a downtown jewelry store and scooped up a dozen watches. One of the robbers fled on foot, after the shooting, and the other escaped in a commandeered taxicab.

Goldstein Hyrd, 32, a witness of Burke's fight, was wounded in the hand by a shot that was wild.

LANCASTER, O., Jan. 8.—Harry Jordan, former secretary of the Security Savings company here, today pleaded guilty in common pleas court to a charge of forging a mortgage, and was sentenced to from eight to 20 years at hard labor in the Ohio penitentiary.

Jordan was arrested a few days ago after discovery of a mortgage of approximately $100,000 in the accounts of the bank. Authorities said he admitted the defalcations when arrested.

His arraignment was scheduled for tomorrow, but he was taken to the courthouse this morning from the jail where he had been held since his arrest, and entered the pleas of guilty to the one charge. Judge Brooks Shell passed sentence.

OPPOSE MERGER

Labor to Fight Rail Plan if Employees Lessened.

By The Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 8.—The proposed merger of eastern railroads into four major systems will meet the opposition of railroad labor organizations if it means dismissal of employees, according to George M. Harrison, of Cincinnati, grand president of the Brotherhood of railway clerks.

Harrison told the Cleveland council of the brotherhood last night that if all the nation's railroads are consolidated in 21 systems, "which seems to be the ultimate goal," half a million employees could be eliminated.

Empty Feeling

(Will Rogers Special)
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Jan. 8.—The Senate passed a bill appropriating $15,000,000 for food but the House of Representatives (up to today), had not approved it.

They seem to think that's a bad precedent to appropriate money for food. It's too much like the "dole."

They think it would encourage hunger. The way things look, hunger don't need much encouragement.

It's just coming around naturally.

AGE-OLD CREED IS REAFFIRMED IN ENCYCLICAL

Birth Control One of Practices Scathingly Condemned by Church Head.

GIVES CHILD FIRST PLACE

Fidelity to Religious Life Advised as Chief Remedy for Divorce Problem.

By The Associated Press.
VATICAN CITY, Jan. 8.—Age-old Roman Catholic doctrines of marriage and divorce were reaffirmed and emphasized in an encyclical today by Pope Pius XI. Among practices of frustration which he scathingly condemned was birth control.

Referring to birth control, which bishops of the Anglican church indulged under certain circumstances at the Lambeth conference in London last summer, the pontiff condemns all such practices as "against the law of God and nature."

The encyclical unequivocally calls abortion murder. The practice of sterilization of the physically unfit is proclaimed to be against the law of God. The pontiff says, should be dissuaded from marriage but he maintains that the body of a married man is sacred and that public authorities can be given no power to harm the body. Integrity except where a grave crime is concerned.

Purpose Explained
The pontiff in explaining the purpose of the encyclical says that it is necessary "first of all that men's minds be illuminated with the true doctrine of Christ regarding it (marriage), and secondly, that Christian spouses, the weakness of their wills strengthened by the internal grace of God, shall all their ways of thinking and of acting in conformity with that pure law of Christ so as to obtain true peace and happiness for themselves and for their families."

The encyclical calls attention that "a great number of men either entirely ignore or shamelessly deny the great sanctity of Christian wedlock, or even, relying upon the false principles of a new and utterly perverse morality too often trample it under foot."

"And since these most pernicious errors and depraved morals have begun to spread even amongst the faithful and are gradually gaining ground, in our office as Christ's vicar upon earth and supreme shepherd and teacher we consider it our duty to keep the flock com-

DROUTH RELIEF PLAN HITS NEW OBSTACLE

La Guardia Blocks Conference Proposal; Wants All in Distress Aided.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Efforts of administration leaders to obtain consent to send drouth relief appropriation to conference under unanimous agreement failed again today in the house.

Objection was raised by Representative La Guardia, Republican of New York.

The measure was increased to $60,000,000 by a Senate amendment to provide $15,000,000 for human food loans.

The New Yorker reiterated he would not consent to sending the measure to a conference with the senate unless the increased funds could be applied to all persons in distress instead of only drouth-stricken farmers.

Republican leaders said they were determined to send the measure to conference without invoking special legislation right-of-way. The Democrats sought to have a vote on the senate amendment before sending the proposal to conference where the differences between the two branches might be eliminated.

The senate's own survey of unemployment and drouth relief conditions was completed. The Republican steersman had no intention of advocating any new relief measures, or in fact any important general legislation at the remainder of the session, wishing to leave a clear field for the routine but necessary appropriations.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—A proposed tax on amusement places to raise funds for the city division of charities was opposed today by prominent theater operators. They contended the entire burden on one class of business.

Too Industrious Watchman Gets Chance To Sleep

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—For weeks Frank Eckhart has had no time to sleep, but for the next year he will have little time to do anything else.

Eckhart was employed by a firm here as day watchman at $42 a week. He was authorized by the company to hire a night watchman. He hired John Richards.

After many weeks it was discovered that Frank Eckhart, day watchman, and John Richards, night watchman, were the same man. At the end of each day, Eckhart changed his name and his time clock and each

Saturday drew $34 pay instead of $42.

"Perhaps you and Richards should have a year each in jail, but I'll make it just a year for you, and $25 fine for Richards," ruled Judge Alfred Erickson. In sentencing Eckhart for obtaining money under false pretenses.

OBSERVE NEW LAW

Bible Reading Rule in Effect in Arkansas Public Schools.

By United Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 8.—Enforcement of the new Arkansas law, providing for daily reading of Bible in schools which went into effect Jan. 1, is being chiefly left to county and city educational authorities. It was revealed today. The law, providing for daily reading of the scriptures in all state-supported schools, has been put into effect without objection from parents and no violations have been reported, according to the state education department.

As the law does not state how much time should be devoted to reading of the Bible, or the methods to be used, teachers have arranged their own schedules. In some schools the reading takes place before a general assembly. In others teachers select the passages to read without instructions from the school principal.

HEALTH HEADS MAKE REPORTS

City-County Board Reviews
Activities of First Nine Months of Operation.

Examination of 297 school children 17 consultations with physicians, and 397 general investigations are included in the activities of Dr. N. Siffritt since the city and county health units were joined nine months ago, according to a report covering 1930 read at a city health board meeting yesterday.

Twenty-eight water samples were taken by Dr. Siffritt to be analyzed, his report shows. Smallpox prevalent.

Smallpox gave health officials considerable trouble during the year, with 61 cases reported. Scar-measles were reported, the report shows. Because of faulty pasteurizing equipment discovered in a number of cases, and the occasional practice in some dairies of permitting small amounts of milk to remain in the equipment from one day to the next, the bacteria count of raw milk sold in the city during 1930 reached the comparatively high figure of 44,000, according to the annual report of Dr. J. T. Gruber, meat and milk inspector. Around half that figure would have been desirable.

Dr. Gruber's report shows he made 578 inspections, granted 326 permits to sell milk in Marion, refused 58 permits, took 502 milk samples to be analyzed, and made 2,371 sediment tests during the year. Five hundred pounds of tainted meat found in Marion meat markets were destroyed.

Tobin Makes Report
Orders to cleanup premises were issued to 114 persons by C. M. Tobin, sanitary officer, during the year, his annual report shows. Several hundred other unsanitary conditions were remedied through the efforts of Tobin, who also sent 17 persons to the City hospital and 22 to the county home. Monthly reports for December activities, included in the annual reports, were read by the officials. Routine action on bills was taken.

Y-INDUS LOSES OVERTIME BATTLE 30-29

Marion County Cage Teams to Resume Quest for Court Title Friday Night

CINCINNATI WILDCATS SCORE THREE FOULS TO CINCH VICTORY

Gillis, Cram Collect 12 Points Each in Hard-Fought Game.

Three charity tosses in a five-minute overtime period, both successful, were enough to give the Cincinnati Wildcats a single point victory over the Marion Y-Indus basketball aggregation last night on the down-state court. The score was 30 to 29. The defeat was the sixth in 16 starts this season for the Y-Indus club.

The Y-Indus club started the game with a vicious assault on the net that gave them a 10 to 2 lead before the game was five minutes old. A barrage of long range shots by Gillis and Cram were mainly responsible for the big advantage.

Guarding Features
Cincinnati did not tarry long though, in checking this scoring rampage of the Marion pair. Stationing their defense farther out on the small court they soon smothered attempts to connect with the net from mid-floor. As a result the game turned into a tight guarding and fast passing contest.

The lead in the second half alternated back and forth between the two quintets, with the Marion team in the lead most of the time. Trailing the leaders by three points with but a couple of minutes to play the Marion club was apparently due for a beating when Cram dropped in a foul and a field goal in rapid succession to deadlock the count at 27 all and necessitating an overtime period of play.

Marion Takes Lead
Marion came through with a bucket at the first of the overtime to take a two point lead which the team clung to until there remained but a minute to play.

Cincinnati's pivot man, Sanda, then took matters into his own hands and dropped through three points on a trio of charity tosses, to give his team a single point advantage as the gun cracked to end the game.

Vic Gillis and Bud Cram collected a dozen points each in the game. Gillis running his season's total to 208. He is the first man in any Marion club to accomplish this feat this season.

16 OF 20 QUINTETS BOOKED FOR GAMES

Girls' Teams Play Prelims to Each of Urban Hard-wood Battles.

THE Christmas holidays behind them, 16 of the 20 Marion county high school basketball quintets will take up their court duties where they were temporarily dropped before the vacation period Friday night and start the battle to decide the 1931 county cage championship. Eight of the principals of the games this week-end are boys teams and the same number draw their performers from the ranks of the females. Two schools will not send their representatives into action against league competition. At least one of these two schools will pit their teams against non-league opponents.

In the eastern sector of the county basketball, Caledonia will move its attacking forces into the Kirkpatrick gymnasium and attempt to hand the league leaders the first defeat of the season. In two starts this season the Kirkpatrick boys have twice been successful as against no defeats. The girls of the two schools will meet in the preliminary game.

Claridon and Waldo, the former with a 500 per cent average to date and the latter with 333 will clash on the Waldo hardwood. The girls of these two schools will also appear in a preliminary.

Two top-notch teams of the western sector of the county will look horns when Pleasant township cagers invade the confines of the Morral gym. Both teams have been victors in the same number of starts but Pleasant has played one more than Morral and lost that game. Pleasant to meet the tall calls of LaRue five on the LaRue court. Girls' prelims will be held prior to both of these games.

In non-league competition the Martel teams will take on the quintets of the Marion Business College on the county team's court.

LA RUE WINS TWO

Athletic Aink Marcell 20-18; Girls' Win Easy Contest 25-10.

The LaRue Athletics continued last night to demonstrate their superiority over independent cage clubs of this locality by trouncing the Marcell Ex-11 team 20 to 18 on the LaRue court. The winning combination was never crowded during the game, taking the lead at the start and holding it throughout the contest.

The LaRue Athletic Girls' team went on a track meet at the expense of the Marcell girls and romped to victory and won by a one-third count of 55 to 23. Marcell failed to score a single point until the final period of play when a field goal and charity toss netted a trio of markers.

WOLFFE TO OPPOSE GARDNER IN MAIN GO OF WRESTLING CARD

Hardy Kruskamp, Former Grid Star, To Grapple in Semi-Final.

BY KARL R. McELROY
TWO great wrestling matches have been booked for two feature bouts on the mat program which will open the 1931 season at the Steam Shovel gym Monday night.
The main-go will bring together "Pinkie" Gardner of New York and Frank Wolffe of Australia while "Hardy" Kruskamp of Wellston and Frank Higgins of Knoxville, Tenn., meet in the semi-final.
Gardner, one of matdom's clean-cut light heavyweights, is touring the mid-west seeking a match with Joe Banaski, the Oklahoma cowboy, who at present holds the title for this section of the country.

Wolffe Is Contender
Banaski, all Marion fans remember the exciting moments he has furnished them at the Shovel gym, has the idea that he is much too good for the easterner and insists that Gardner defeat several of the likeliest contenders for the title. Wolffe is one of the contenders for top division honors.

Although a newcomer in wrestling circles, "Hardy" Kruskamp needs no formal introduction to football fans. He is a former Ohio State star who set the Buckeye gridiron on fire for a number of years.

Relies on Flying Tackle
The hard drive and fight that he has carried into the ring, already he is on his way to the top rung of the ladder and learning new tricks every day. He carries the smashing attack of the gridiron and the flying tackle is his favorite method of taking victories from the toughest opponents.

He will face an unusual wrestling specimen in Higgins. The Knoxville lad is but five feet tall and is what insurance companies would describe as being slightly overweight for his height. The beams tip to 200 when he steps on the mark, and he is all man. He is certain to be a handful for Kruskamp although he will offer a large target for flying tackle.

Two preliminaries not yet announced will complete the bill.

Maskill of Erie Railroad Perfect Score by 12 Pins.

Joe Maskill of the Erie Railroad rolled but a single game last night in the Industrial Bowling league but his score in this one game was higher than the combined scores of three games for several of his fellow bowlers of the league. Maskill bowled over the tenpins with monotonous regularity, battering out 10 strikes in consecutive order, missing a perfect 300 score by only 12 points.

The Erie team, despite this unusual feat on the part of Maskill is repeating in seventh place in the eight team circuit, trailed only by the Sealeman's team. The Osgood Manufacturing Co. still sets the pace for the league with 35 games won and 19 lost for a percent of .667.

10 STRIKES!

Maskill of Erie Railroad Perfect Score by 12 Pins.

Joe Maskill of the Erie Railroad rolled but a single game last night in the Industrial Bowling league but his score in this one game was higher than the combined scores of three games for several of his fellow bowlers of the league. Maskill bowled over the tenpins with monotonous regularity, battering out 10 strikes in consecutive order, missing a perfect 300 score by only 12 points.

The Erie team, despite this unusual feat on the part of Maskill is repeating in seventh place in the eight team circuit, trailed only by the Sealeman's team. The Osgood Manufacturing Co. still sets the pace for the league with 35 games won and 19 lost for a percent of .667.

Friml Melodies Make Up NBC Ensemble Bill

THE talented melodies of Rodolph Friml, popular librettist and composer, taken from half a dozen of his most popular operettas, will compose the program which will be presented by the Maxwell Ensemble Thursday. The program will be broadcast from a coast-to-coast network of the NBC at 9:30 p. m.

Muriel Wilson, soprano, and Frank Parker, tenor, will sing the featured vocalists. They will sing the melody "Rackety Zoo" from "Katinka," and Parker will be heard in a solo number with the Maxwell Singers in "The Bubble" from "High Jinks."

Lou Raderman, concert violinist whose solos with the ensemble have brought much favorable comment, will play "Humoresque," a Friml composition not as well known as some of his other compositions. The entire ensemble will join in presenting one of the composer's most popular numbers, "The Song of the Vagabonds" from "The Vagabond King."

"The Salon Orchestra" is the title of a new half hour of music making its debut over an NBC network Thursday at 8:30 p. m. Nathaniel Shilkret, famous recording artist and conductor of some of NBC's major musical programs, will direct the orchestra in the new series.

"The Thief of Time" is the title of the Watchman program play to be heard over the Columbia Broadcasting System Thursday from 8:45 to 9 p. m. Action of the story takes place in ancient Rome when no more accurate means of telling time were available than sundials and water clocks.

A group of quiet harmonies played by Emory Deutsch and his orchestra will form the background for the poetic readings of David

EUGENIE LEONTOVICH
Russian actor, now appearing in the current Broadway success, "Grand Hotel," will be heard in her own program of Russian songs and poetry over the Columbia network Thursday at 8:45 p. m.

Ross during the Poets' Gold program Thursday from 10:30 to 11 p. m. over the Columbia network.

Kate Smith, a Washington society girl, who made "Hallelujah" the anthem of America and set a new standard in "blue" singing, plays a return engagement as guest star of Rudy Vallee's program Thursday from 8 to 9 p. m. over station WEAF and a coast-to-coast NBC network.

The Lutheran Women's Choir of St. Louis and the St. Louis String Ensemble will combine, under the direction of William B. Hayne, in presenting the musical program of the Lutheran Hour to be broadcast from St. Louis over the Columbia network Thursday from 10 to 10:30 p. m.

MARION MAN DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

S. D. Miller, 60, Drops Dead
After Eating Heartily; Funeral Saturday.

Samuel Delbert Miller, 60, dropped dead yesterday at 8:30 p. m. at his home on Bryant street. Mr. Miller had eaten a hearty meal and gone outside to a well for a drink of cold water. He was found by his wife, County Coroner Dr. Kenneth Smith said early this morning that he would probably return a verdict of either apoplexy or organic heart trouble.

His wife, Mrs. Edith Stanbaugh Miller, to whom he was married Dec. 18, 1922, a brother, Bert Miller of Michigan, and a sister Miss

D. Cole of Alma, Mich., are his surviving relatives. He was born Jan. 24, 1870, in this state.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the C. E. Curtis Co. mortuary on East Center street, in charge of Rev. S. F. Porter, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. Friends may view the body at the mortuary.

Warren Evangelists To Preach Here Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. Marvin L. Smith of Warren, O., will be guests of the Full Gospel Assembly on Darfus street at a special meeting Friday at 7:45 p. m. at the church. There will be no meeting at the church tonight.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith are both evangelists and musicians. He is pastor of the First Pentecostal church at Warren.

There May be Poison in YOUR Bowels!

STEP out tomorrow morning with the fresh buoyancy and briskness that comes from a clean intestinal tract. Syrup Pepsin—a doctor's prescription for the bowels—will help you do this. This compound of fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other mild ingredients will clean you out thoroughly—without griping, sickening or discomfort.

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The great difference it will make in your feelings over night will convince you of its merit.

Dr. Caldwell studied bowel troubles for forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the largest selling laxative in drugstores everywhere.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

MARION EAGLES HEAR STATE HEAD SPEAK

E. M. Barry of Cleveland Addresses Local Lodge-men.

Nearly 300 members heard E. M. Barry of Cleveland, state president of the Eagles lodge, in an address at Buckeye Aerie, No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles, here last night.

The state head outlined the proposed stabilization of employment through a proposed federal commission, which the lodge is sponsoring. If established, the commission would have the power to prevent new industries or projects in a field already overcrowded. It would function somewhat like the interstate commerce commission, which prevents the establishment of new railroads every route already served by rail, but would apply this principle to industries, Barry said.

Plans for a membership campaign during the next two months were outlined. A. H. Franklin and Russell H. Patterson are heads of two groups in the lodge which will conduct the drive in the form of a contest. At the end of the two months the winning side will be banqueted by the losers.

A lunch was served after the meeting. Music was furnished by the Landon Lullallans.

PLAN GRAND JURY PRISON FIRE PROBE

Discussed at Conference of State and Franklin County Officials.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—Grand jury investigation of the Ohio penitentiary fire appeared probable today.

Announcement that Franklin county officials were contemplating a new inquiry into the disaster that cost the lives of 320 convicts last April 21, was made after a conference with state investigators yesterday.

Those at the conference, which thrived the first time the state and county jointly joined hands in an effort to learn the cause of the fire, were Ray R. Gill, state fire marshal, Joseph D. Clear, his special investigator, Don R. Hoskins, prosecuting attorney, and Franklin Tubrecht, assistant prosecutor.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint county officials with the mass of evidence collected by Gill and his aids. This evidence is expected to be used as a basis for the county's probe, but it was said the grand jury will not be asked to return indictments unless it is made certain convictions can be obtained.

The fire marshal's office in a report to Governor Cooper last spring said its probe indicated the conflagration was incendiary. The inquiry has continued more or less secretly and several months ago two convicts were taken to the Columbus city jail for questioning by state officials. This led to reports that Gill had information that convicts started that blaze in a plot to escape. Two of these prisoners were reported to have perished in the flames, and a third to have hanged himself.

MEETING DEVELOPS INTO "LOVE FEAST"

Warner Motion Backing Schorr Adopted by State G. O. P. Committee.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—The Republican state central committee held a "love feast" here yesterday afternoon. The thirty-three members present voted confidence in State Chairman Edward D. Schorr and in Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the national committee. The position of Lucas in connection with his activities against Senator Norris of Nebraska was endorsed. The committee took both actions by unanimous vote.

On motion of Fred W. Warner of Marion, former state chairman, a resolution was adopted pledging the committee's wholehearted cooperation to Schorr in the carrying out of his program, and authorized the chairman to take control of state headquarters and personnel.

Chairman Schorr announced that there was a financial deficit of $39,739 from the last campaign. He said substantial subscriptions and pledges were to be collected immediately, and that he expected the deficit to be wiped out within 60 days.

No mention was made during the session of the committee's endorsement of Mrs. Wilma Sinclair LeVan of Steubenville for appointment to the Republican national committee. It had been reported that Mrs. LeVan had been nominated by the Dayton would present a petition asking the committee to rescind the LeVan endorsement and back her for the position.

SECOND GRAND JURY CALLED

Federal Attorneys Uncertain If Casey Will Be Allowed To Air Charges.

By International News Service.
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 3.—With more than 50 cases scheduled to be presented for investigation, the northern Ohio federal grand jury will convene here next Monday.

Wilfred J. Mahon, United States district attorney, announced today. Members of the November grand jury will be called for a second session, he said.

Whether James E. Casey, convicted former president of the Citizens' National bank at Gallon, O., will be taken before the investigating body to present charges made by him through M. W. Spear, his attorney, when the former banker pleaded guilty in federal district court to making false reports and falsifying records at the bank, was not decided definitely by the government.

Spear declared that at least four directors of the bank knew of Casey's stock market speculations which resulted in the $223,043.30 shortage in the bank's funds and that the directors verbally authorized the speculations and the making of false entries to the comptroller of currency.

Baying Dogs Gone As Ashley's "Daniel Boone" Dies In Home

Special to The Star.
ASHLEY, Jan. 3.—"Daniel Boone" Ashley is dead and the baying of his dogs no longer will be heard here. Hiram Armstrong, better known by the name of the hero of every American boy interested in pioneer life, passed away Wednesday at the Delaware county home where he had been confined for three weeks. Death was caused by infirmities of old age.

Armstrong was a familiar figure here. He disliked crowded communities and was continually moving from one place to another. He told his few friends here that he liked the open spaces and his roving character brought him the name of "Daniel Boone."

He was born in Inwood, Ind., but spent most of his life here until 35 years ago when his wife died. Since that time he spent short periods in this community. For the last five years he has lived in a small two-room house and made his living breeding and selling dogs. His dogs were his friends and outside a business way he made a few social contacts.

Funeral services were held today at the C. R. Lee funeral home with interment in the Ashley cemetery. There are no close relatives surviving. He was 75 years old.

ASHLEY, Jan. 3.—The first meeting of the newly formed welfare organization was held Tuesday. C. J. Kiefer, president of the local school board has been appointed president, and the presidents of all the organizations in Ashley as assisting officers.

Through this organization an effort is being made to provide food, clothing and shelter for the unfortunate of the community. A committee composed of Mrs. Jessie Hinkle, Mrs. Ruth Lea, Cassius Smith and E. E. Littenberger was appointed to decide on the best methods and plans. A special meeting will be held at the home of R. B. Warner tonight to discuss these plans.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, Jan. 9

A RATHER unimportant state of affairs is read from the ruling lunar and mutual aspects. There is a sign of personal inharmoniousness and dissatisfaction leading to depression and possibly minor quarrels or contention. Correspondence or the signing of papers may be the cause of confusion, strife and dejection. Be on guard against litigation because of these.

Those whose birthday it is need not expect a particularly active or eventful year. There may be a disposition to depression, irritability and impetuous conduct, which may precipitate unhappiness and perhaps litigation. Be careful especially in personal correspondence and the making of legal papers. A child born on this day may be prone to contention and strife, which may react on its own happiness and progress.

YOUTHS RETURNED

Columbus Negroes To Face Auto Theft Charges Here.

Ronald Burke, 19, colored, of 182 Jefferson street, Columbus, probably will be arraigned today in municipal court on a charge of auto stealing. Burke and a companion, Paul Glover, 14, also colored and giving the same address, were brought here from Toledo last night by police, following the theft of a Pontiac coach from Phillip Guthery at 450 Delaware avenue Tuesday night.

Glover, a juvenile, was turned over to the juvenile court of Judge Oscar Gast.

Police believe the colored youths stole Guthery's car here after they had wrecked a Studebaker sedan a short distance south of here which they had taken from a Columbus druggist earlier that night.

COURT UPHELD

Appeals Tribunal Affirms Decision of Marion County Judge.

The third district court of appeals today upheld common pleas court in its decision in the case brought by Henry W. Straub against John R. Smith and others, concerning the sale of the Star Bottling Works at Wilson and Jefferson streets.

The lower court had ruled that proceeds of the sale, which was asked by Straub and other creditors, be distributed pro rata among the various creditors, some of whom contended they held priority claims.

Straub was represented by the law firm of Mouser, Young & Mouser, while the defendants were represented by L. E. Myers, Homer E. Johnson and George T. Geran.

WHAT A WORLD OF GRIEF IT SAVES YOU!

WE KNOW a seed house that proves each season's crop of seeds in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetables grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products whose self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains those products."

The four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are spent annually to develop, to improve, to standardize, and to take the guesswork out of merchandise. Other millions of dollars are spent in advertising to tell you about them.

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in advertised merchandise you save yourself the bother, the expense, the disappointment—yes the danger—of experimenting and discovering for yourself which make of soap, breakfast food, radio tubes, lingerie, gasoline, tea, electrical device, stationery—or what-not—gives you the most service for your money.

The news columns of this paper keep you informed of the latest international, national and local happenings. The advertisements keep you informed of the newest, most advantageous, most reliable merchandise that America's most progressive makers are producing.

Daily Proverb—"It is in hating vice that we strengthen ourselves in the love of virtue."

"10,000 Jobless Men Dig Montreal Out of Snowdrift," reads a headline from the big Canadian city. It must have been a real snow-drift; either that, or the 10,000 lacked experience in that kind of a job.

A prominent Washington doctor told a professional gathering in Atlantic City that the great American malady is a fondness for noise.
This may be taken to explain the national enthusiasm over political campaigns.

By declaring that Max Schmeling is no longer heavyweight champion fighter of the world, the New York state athletic commission manifestly assumes to itself jurisdiction over all the land. What a joke it would be were the other forty-seven states and the District of Columbia to give the New York
state commission the merry ha ha!

The British unemployed numbered 2,643,127
last week of 1930, a record in England, but one which will be broken into smithereens if the workers in British industries keep on going out on strikes, as they have of late.

A Philippine typhoon takes 150 lives and does property damage to the extent of $1,250,- 000 in the islands of Cebu and Leyte. What's the explanation of this almost incessant succession of storms? Are the sunspots or the great electric charges of the radio broadcasting stations responsible?

On the last day of the year just ended, the Chase National bank, of New York City, reported resources of $2,697,328,855, the greatest ever reported by an institution of the kind,
an aggregate exceeding its deposits by over $624,000,000. Why, then are many governments with resources almost immeasurably
less than that.

A New York City man, leaving a note
stating that business was "rotten," leaped
from the fourteenth story of the skyscraper
in which his place of business was located to his death. That's our idea of the very worst way ever to stimulate business activity.

A second New York City magistrate has resigned under fire, another has been relieved of his duties until he disposes of the charges against him and a former magistrate is on trial charged with having paid $10,000 to influence his appointment to office. How could Mayor Jimmy Walker have been so utterly deceived into issuing his personal guarantee of the absolute purity of Tammany?

The Los Angeles Times has issued many excellent numbers, but it is to be questioned
if any of them can be compared with its annual mid-winter number just off its presses.
It's a typical Los Angeles Times enriched by a number of magazine sections copiously illuminated by many illustrations in pastel shades and four sections in rotogravure depicting the scenic beauties of the Pacific coast and its multiplicity of winter resorts. As a special number, it may be said to have as closely approached the ideal, as is possible by human effort.

Another Marion County Man.
The incoming White administration manifestly is appreciative of Marion county ability.
When one appointment goes to a county it might be taken as a tribute to its geographical position, for geography is not without consideration in the political world, but when two important state positions go to a county, especially when the county has a comparatively small voting strength, they must be accepted
as evidence of the esteem of the worth of the appointees.

It was but two or three days ago that Governor-Elect White named I. S. Guthery to be head of the state agricultural department, and Wednesday O. W. Merrill, who will become state highway director next Monday, named Grover C. Snyder, another Marion county man, for chief engineer of the maintenance
bureau of his department.

Like the new agricultural director, Mr.
Snyder has ability and experience alike to fit
him for the position to which he has been named. Not only has he had experience as a surveyor and as engineer of the Sixth division of the state highway system, which division
embraces the counties of Marion, Morrow,
Delaware, Madison, Franklin, Pickaway and Fayette, but has also served in the position
to which he has been named, having been chief maintenance engineer two years during the last term of Governor Donahay.

Naturally one is inclined to consider all the appointments of a new administration by the worth of those of which he has personal knowledge. We are frank to say that, following this natural inclination, we have come to esteem the personnel of the incoming administration highly and to anticipate under Governor White a clean and able handling of the business and affairs of the state.

A Revolution Unique in One Way.

Some shooting during the early hours of the morning in Panama, not at anybody or anything in particular, just wild shooting. Some-ten or twelve people are killed and a slightly larger number wounded, not because of any feeling or prejudice against them, but simply because they happened to get in the way of the bullets. Meanwhile the president of the republic, Florencio Arosemena, is captured in his palace, and he resigns after replacing Daniel Ballen, secretary of government and justice, by Dr. Harmodio Arias. The Panamanian supreme court, as provided by law, takes charge of the situation and awards in Dr. Arias as provisional president, and an invitation is extended to the Panamanian minister to Washington, Dr. Don Ricardo J. Alfaro, to become president on the ground that the three vice presidents were illegally elected and that Dr.
Alfaro, first vice president of the preceding administration, was the logical successor to the deposed president. The stores and other business places, which had been closed for a day, reopen and business goes on as usual, the government police, city firemen and citizens
generally having gone over to the revolutionists, apparently satisfied with the change.
President Designate Alfaro accepts the invitation to lead the government, and another Latin-American revolution is a thing of the past.

"We are sick and tired of this administration which has squandered public funds and enriched its members," the revolutionists told an American newspaper correspondent during the few hours the ruction was on. "We are not bolshheviks, but patriots." And Dr. Arias,
the provisional president, the day following,
told Roy T. Davis, United States minister to Panama: "I am sorry that this has happened,
but it was forced upon the people and upon me. I don't want the job and I assure you that I won't have it long, but the people have faith in me and I will carry out their wish."

From this it may be seen that the Panamanian revolution in most respects was very similar to most governmental overthrows in South and Central America and as much like some as two pens in a pod. Like the most of them, its duration was short, its life loss was small, the reaction of the public was similar, business activities were quickly resumed and moved along in normal channels.

But in one respect, the Panamanian revolution was different from most of those which have accomplished changes of government in Latin-American republics. In most, in the overwhelming majority, the revolt was inspired by some disappointed or disgruntled
"patriot" for the purpose of personal gain or advancement or prompted by thirst for power.
The Panamanian, to the contrary, was raised,
waged and accomplished for one serving the government in a foreign land, who, so far as is known, had no connection with it and did not even so much as know that it was contemplated. Unless there are developments to prove the contrary, developments to show that Dr. Alfaro was party to it, the revolution of last week will go down as one unique among the revolutions in Latin-American republics.

Dry agents seized 24,576 pints of ale found by them a day or two ago in a Yonkers garage. Has that new prohibition administrator
no spirit of compassion whatever for New York City's thirsty?

The disclosure in the lower house of congress, that "a government-owned speaker,"
figured in a federal prohibition case which recently resulted in the conviction of six Indiana police officers and the charge that an appropriation for $547,000, now sought for enforcement, was to be utilized in establishing
more of such speakeries, surely do not combine to make what the average American citizen would consider really pleasant reading.

Coincidence with the flight of the ten Italian planes over the South Atlantic, three Italian aviators arrived in Algeria, Algeria, with a record of having flown entirely around the continent of Africa since leaving Rome last October. Premier Mussolini leaves no stone unturned to attract to the Fascist government the attention of the world.

Motor, the magazine of the automotive
business, says that the increase in motor highway vehicles in 1930 was the smallest on record since motor vehicles came into general use, having been only 160,133, an increase of but six-tenths of one per cent, and making the total of the passenger cars and trucks in use in the United States 26,661,598. Is this a reflex of the Wall Street crash or an indication of saturation?

Senator Nye wants to secure the prolongation
of the life of his campaign expense committee beyond that of the present session of congress and is seeking an appropriation of $50,- 000 to that end. Naturally, Gerald is capable of enjoying the publicity, and look at all the country he is seeing while traveling about and living luxuriously at public expense!

A survey of eleven representative American cities shows that there were fewer marriages and fewer deaths in 1930 than in 1929, but more births, divorces and suicides. Now the individual capable of explaining a situation
such as this would come pretty close to our idea of a reasoning genius.

Home Minister Carl Severing of Prussia declares that the police are in full control of the coal strike situation in the Ruhr, which he holds was started by communistic agitators in the hope that it would lead to a general strike. It's easy to accept the latter half of his announcement as a statement of fact, the situation over there tallying so closely with that in a number of recent strikes over here.

One hundred years ago yesterday, January 7, 1831, the first issue of the Palladium was published at Richmond, Indiana, and in commemoration thereof the Richmond Palladium
and Sun-Telegram has issued a splendid centennial anniversary number, not only carrying the customary day's assortment of news, features and advertisements, but also a fac-simile of the second issue of the Palladium and a remarkably clever sixty-two-page magazine
section on Richmond of 100 years ago and Richmond today with scores of half-tone illustrations. It's a number of which the publishers may be proud.

INTERNAL DISORDER.

Editorial Opinion.

THE NYE COMMITTEE.

The Nye committee is considering investigating charges that a "secret fund of $100,000"
was raised to defeat Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana. The committee has had investigators working in Montana for some time.
The pledge of the fund, or perhaps the money
itself, is supposed to have been carried to Montana by a Republican leader. But apparently the fund has disappeared, for Montana Republicans and campaign workers, who drew down into their jeans with the expectation they would be reimbursed, are now clamoring. It is said, for relief and are struggling with a deficit of $40,000.

At least the G. O. P. can not be charged, in the case of Senator Walsh, with having sought to defeat a nominee of its own party. Certainly the Republicans appear to be entitled to struggle against the reelection of a Democratic senator, even though some of the Republican Progressives may have undertaken to aid Walsh in his campaign for reelection. If the G. O. P. is not to be permitted to oppose the election of Democratic candidates for office, then, indeed, is the Elephant hog-tied. It is quite true, of course, that the Republicans
should not be permitted to buy the election
of any of their candidates, by the expenditure of excessive funds, in Montana or anywhere else. It was planned to carry Montana for Judge Charles McNary, Republican nominee for senate, by the use of money, corruptly and extravagantly expended. It is a matter to be run down and exposed. From the report, however, it is not clear that such expenditures were made. But an effort is being made to throw mud on the Republican opponent of the Montana senator, who was elected, by the way, by a greater majority than he ever received before.

The Nye committee is asking for an extension
of life beyond the term of the present congress, which expires March 4, and for an additional $50,000 to carry on the work of the committee. It is reported that much of the additional fund, if it is granted, will be used to investigate charges that the election in Alabama was "stolen" from Senator Thomas
J. Heflin, who incurred the wrath of the regular Democrats in this state in 1925 by opposing the election of Alfred E. Smith to the presidency. Senator Heflin has submitted charges to that effect, and the committee has had its investigators in the state, and it now appears that the committee will make a serious
inquiry into these charges.

The senate investigating committee has still
to make a final report on the Pennsylvania senatorial primary and election, and it is planned to make this report at an early date.
It has brought to the attention of the country
that individuals and political organizations in some of the states have been willing to expend huge sums of money to win senatorial nominations and elections. It can not be denied that the committee has served and continues to serve a useful purpose. Nevertheless, the committee of the senate should not be used as an agent of either political party.
The charge has been made that in some instances political advantage rather than the purity of the senate has been the real end sought. How difficult is not to play politics, particularly
if the senate is involved?—Washington Star.

Dinner Stories.

"Do you find it an advantage to have your car tagged with a label that shows your official position?"
"Not always," answered Senator Sorghum.
"There have been persons so low in character
as to assume that I enjoyed special immunities and that my car, if ransacked, would probably yield results entirely contrary to my personal principles."

"Do you understand the Einstein theory?"
"No," answered the man who never admits defeat. "But—I'll say this much: I can explain it to the average intelligence as well as Einstein himself."

broken hearts."

"And what did he say to that?"
"He borrowed it."

Teach Child Good Food Habits.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In considering the food requirements of children we must always keep in mind the fact that they are still growing. Children are exceedingly active and every day increases the size of their muscles and bones. This increase can proceed only if proper and plentiful supplies of food are at their disposal.

As in the adult, the factors of wear and tear
on the body must be considered. In the child an additional factor must be provided for namely growth. If the food supply of the child is scanty growth is retarded.

Milk should form the basis of the child's diet. The child should not be allowed to become indifferent to milk and never actually develop a dislike for the important food. Almost without exception, the authorities state
that each child requires a quart of milk daily.
We can easily change the old saying to read
"a quart of milk a day will keep the doctor away."

In general the child's food should consist of milk, eggs, cereals, vegetables and fruits.
Meat should be served occasionally, but not
daily and always in small amounts.

Foods should be either boiled, roasted or baked. I would advise against any fried foods for children. In preparing cereals they should be thoroughly cooked, preferably the night
before, and warmed for breakfast.

Rich and highly flavored foods are not advised. Children do not like a rule crave rich foods. They acquire the taste for sweets. The child who is not familiar with sweets will never crave them, and will be content with wholesome, bland foods. Condiments and spices are not to be included in the child's diet. These articles are intended to stimulate appetite and have no place in the child's food.

If children eat the same table as the adults,
care must be taken in the table conversation.
If mother or father exposes a dislike for one particular food, you will be assured that Tommy or Betty will soon indicate a dislike for the same food. Conversation at the table
should at all times be pleasant and cheerful.

Never try to tempt children with delicacies.
Neither is it wise to bribe them to eat. It is best to depend upon healthy exercise and plenty of fresh air to create the appetite. All other methods are artificial.—Copyright, 1931, by

Romance in Simon Kenton's Life.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Romance seems hardly compatible with the rough character of that old Indian fighter, and factor in the pioneer development of Ohio.
Simon Kenton, in whose honor Hardin county's capital was named, but romance was at the bottom of his venture into the western country.

When he was sixteen, he had fallen devotedly in love with a young woman near his Virginia home, daughter of a neighbor, named Veachman. She gave him encouragement for a time, but being older than he, she finally discarded him for a young man, named Letchman,
who was of a more suitable age.

In spite of the fact that he was yet small while Letchman was a strong and well-developed man, Kenton invited a personal contest with his successful rival and naturally was given a severe drubbing. Nursing his wounds and his wrath, Kenton resolved that when he had grown larger he would even up scores with Letchman.

In the meantime Letchman had married the young woman. Kenton this time adopted a more deliberate method of approach to the encounter, and the time and place were arranged beforehand. As before, Kenton's opponent proved stronger, and after taking severe punishment, Kenton planned a ma-nuver whereby he could get his rival overpowered where a strong but small bush grew.
Letchman had long hair and Kenton believed that if he could entwine his hair in these bushes he could hold him down while he administered punishment to him.

The plan worked and his opponent was thus made fast to the earth, and Kenton, now free,
gave him a full and administered blows that he later feared might prove fatal, and in alarm he fled the country, and passed over the mountains into Kentucky. It was several years before he heard for certain that Letchman had not died. Kenton first married Martha Dowden, of Kentucky, in 1787. After her death, in 1816, he married a woman of the same name—a near relative of his first wife.

The Word of God.

Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips
from speaking guile. Depart from evil,
and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.
—Psalm 34:13, 14.

Prayer—Help us, Lord, that not being overcome of evil, we may overcome evil
with good.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Viewed in a large way, there is no more important or comprehensively significant subject than agriculture. The effects of agriculture are universal in incidence, affecting every one, either directly or indirectly. Individual well-being, even at times universal prosperity,
are functions of agriculture.

The meaning of families is scarcely brought fully home to us by frequent and circumstantial accounts of great famines in such densely populated countries as India and China. Financial depression in the United States is vividly bringing the subject to our attention nowadays.

One of the burning political, as well as social and agrarian questions in this country
in very recent years is the question of governmental relief for the farmer. A situation affecting world prices of staples has recently been brought about by farming on a colossal
scale inaugurated by the present government in Russia.

It is frequently affirmed that the day of the small farmer is past, and that intensive farming on large areas is the only form of farming that can be made profitable. Perhaps no such generalizations are entirely sound, and certainly national prosperity is not necessarily a function of agricultural abundance.
America at the present time rejoices in agricultural abundance, yet banks are toppling
over like card houses.

Aside from social and economic effects,
agriculture has profited, to an incalculable extent, by the employment of science in its study of scientific methods in its practice. Half a century ago it was freely prophesied that by this time population saturation would certainly be reached and probably passed.

Yet, although populations have increased at approximately the calculated rate, the ability to feed them has correspondingly increased, as the result of the discovery and application of scientific methods. Farming, suffering hardship have all very appreciably decreased. Prosperity, ease and leisure have all been secured
and diffused as never before.

All this has come about, in very large measure, through the application of science and its experimental methods to the study of agriculture. The cardinal factors in the situation have been discovered, and through scientific study we are learning to control these factors.
Trial and experiment are the methods employed by science in this great battle with pests and disease, as well as in the study of variations of all sorts which may be secured
for crop improvement and plant breeding.

Scientists have formulated great principles which govern the raising and growing of both plants and animals. Among these may be mentioned Darwin's formulation of the theory of natural selection and Mendel's studies of inheritance of unit characters and formulation
of the manner of inheritance of such characters known as Mendel's laws.

As Dr. F. W. Woods, of the United States department of agriculture, has recently pointed out: the deductions of Darwin and Mendel
have given us greatly increased power to modify species and to make new ones embodying
new unit characters and consequent qualities
and to have these fixed true as in nature.
While nature may take a thousand years to produce a new species, the present-day scientist can do it in a very few years and in some cases even in a few weeks.

Soils, plants, pests are all intensively studied
at all times by government agencies and experts. Animal husbandry is one of the great industries of the country. It is now estimated that agriculture through the federal government and the experiment stations expends approximately $30,000,000 a year for a $600,000,- 000,000 group of industries. The result is that,
for all its shortcomings, American agriculture
is the best in the world.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

Hostesses were Mrs. E. L. Brady and Mrs. E. H. Keller, and the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Brady on Vernon Heights boulevard.

While the proceeds this year were slightly under those of last year members of the board feel that the affair was quite as much of a success as those of other years. Proceeds of the event will be used to finance some feature of hospital equipment which will add to the improvement and comfort of the institution. A committee will be named in the near future to determine the expenditure of the money.

Eat Fruit and Vegetables
To Improve Complexion

BY JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON
An excessively oily skin condition, probably due to more beauty troubles than any other single problem which arises to mar the complexion. For this reason we should be exceptionally alert to recognize the first indication that too much oil is flooding the surface of the skin.

Then too, at this particular season oiliness is apt to occur because of the larger amounts of rich food which are partaken of during the holidays. Christmas candy should be viewed with caution, likewise fruit cake, nuts, candied fruits and all those palatable tidbits which are such an integral part of merrymaking. Though they entice and delight the palate, they may wreck the complexion if overindulgence is permitted.

An oily skin condition really has its beginning in an unbalanced diet and although the skin may clear up again when the diet has been corrected it is far better to prevent its occurrence. Frequently the digestive upheaval caused by eating too much rich food does not respond even to careful treatment for some weeks and the longer the condition persists the harder it is to correct.

Another point relative to oily skin which I would like to make clear has to do with the undernourished condition of the muscles and tissues when an excessively oily condition is present. Many people wonder why the muscle structure of the face falls when such an abundant amount of oil, which is nourishing, is evident. When oil is visible on the skin it means that instead of remaining in the under-structure where it belongs, if it is to nourish and feed that structure, it is rushing through the ducts onto the surface of the skin. Therefore, when the oil runs freely past its destined goal, it hasn't an opportunity to fill its true mission of feeding the understructure.

We all are familiar with the results of malnutrition, whether it be of the entire system or of the condition is localized as happens when an excessively oily skin condition is present.

Other pitfalls of excessive oiliness are the enlarged pores which give a sieve-like appearance to the skin. We know that the skin stretches and when more oil than Nature intended comes through the tiny outlets, an enlarged pore condition results.

Following close upon this, the oil in the enlarged pores collects far more impurities and holds them imprisoned than would be possible under normal skin conditions. Soon blackheads form, making a third beauty disaster. When those blackheads prove irritating enough, the oil ducts often become infected and then you've a full-fledged blemish problem that may take weeks of constant care to clear up.

At the first indication of excess oil on the skin, go on a diet which eliminates all unnecessary food. More often than not one week's abstinence from candy, sodas, fancy concoctions of ice cream, cake, puddings with rich sauces, stews, pork and similar foods will clear up the condition in its early stages. During that time eat more fresh fruit and green vegetables than you do ordinarily. Surely one week's careful dieting with its resultant improvement in your complexion should more than repay the inconvenience. Then when you return to those foods do so rather sparingly and the condition should not return.

Of course, an aggravated condition requires local treatment as well as the corrected diet and it takes much longer for real improvement to become evident. But if you will watch your skin carefully and follow my suggestion it never will be necessary for you to adopt the stricter methods.

Did your Child have a bad cold last week?

If your child had a bad cold last week don't be content just because the child is no longer hacking and sneezing. A cold is bad enough but a child that catches cold easily and often, needs attention.

Half-sick, pale, run-down children do not have the strength to resist disease and throw off infection. The after-effects of a cold can be very serious. Start now to build up weight and strength.

It is a simple food medicine that supplies the vitamins that every child needs. Children thrive on it amazingly. Their appetite improves, their very food seems to do them more good. Pale cheeks gladden with health. Little bodies become strong and vigorous.

the form best suited to a growing child's needs. It is easily assimilated by even the most delicate stomach. It tastes good and contains no alcohol or drugs. her sister flew into a tantrum. She'd gone off on her rounds of the studios without even saying good-bye. Deeply as that had hurt Allen, her reaction was not bitter—not toward Vivienne anyway. She realized that on Vivienne's incompetence shouldered this new responsibility rested like a yoke. Allen removed the mask and wiped the tears from her eyes. Instantly, she replaced it—as though she had been guilty of an indiscretion. With an effort she set to work again. Jimmy would come at 2 and she was making him a cake. Now because she wished to conceal her mood, Allen slipped into a fetching suit of satin lounge pajamas. Just a touch of lipstick would serve to hide the droop at the corners of her mouth. Jimmy must not see that. Without exactly knowing why, Allen grew elated. When Jimmy arrived he had brought some of the latest records, and proceeded to try them out on her phonograph.

"Say," he bit into the chocolate cake. "You'd make a fortune if you told the world this particular recipe. Just the same, I guess no one else could make a cake like you."

She liked praise of that sort from Jimmy. It was one thing that made him different from other men she knew. They would comment on her dancing—her voice, her legs—her features.

"Do you know," Jimmy said, "I've been thinking. There ought to be a chance for you—with the growing demand for records."

"For me?" she laughed. "Don't be absurd."

"I'm not. Your voice ought to go over big. Allen, unless I miss my guess, it has just the quality needed for recording. Why don't you let me arrange for a test?"

"Jimmy, you big-hearted idiot!" She reproved him gently. "I don't know whether I'd be good or not—but you must see that I couldn't—well I just couldn't. That's all."

Jimmy had suspected that would be her answer and he was prepared for it.

"Look here!" His tone caused Allen to start in surprise. "You don't mean that you're going to just sit back—and admit to your—"

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUD M. LEWIS

WHEN I woke up this morning I didn't know where I was. Banty's mother was snoring and I was wondering what was the matter with Jubilee to make him sleep like that, and I went to shake him to wake him up and woke her up. And then Banty woke up, and she said she would get up and get us some breakfast and I could hurry over to my house and milk the cows, so she hopped out of bed and one foot went through the hole in the floor that the flatiron had burnt and she went down the whole way till her face was level with the side of the bed, and she screamed, and Banty and I hopped out and helped her get her leg out of the hole, and then we all began to laugh and she said she didn't know when she had had so much fun, and she went downstairs to dress and we dressed and she fried some eggs and bacon, and we ate and she told us to hike out, so I got Jubilee and did. She said she would have to get a carpenter to fix the floor before Banty's father got home. She said she didn't know electric irons could get so hot. I didn't either.

Me and Banty skun out for my house and I hammered on the door till my father let me in to get the milk pail, and when I had got the milking done we went in and ate another breakfast and got some stuff for Jubilee. Then the girls came and we went down to the hill and made a jump on the slide for the slays to go over and were almost late to school. Miss Farmer went half way to school with us, and then went to the store and home while we went on. We pulled the girls home on our slays after school and went sliding again. We built the bump up till it was so high it flung us way up in the air.

When I went home and milked the cows and went in to supper Banty and her mother were there again, and while everyone was eating she told them all about the electric flatiron, and what I said about

"Heart of a Wife"

By ADELE GARRISON

The Mysterious Chinese Starling Madge with a Strange Request

SO absorbed had I been by the remembrances which Katie's announcement of a message brought by a Chinese had stimulated, that I must have paid no attention to her further words, for she timidly plucked me by the sleeve and murmured anxiously: "Please, Missis Graham, man say you com qweek. He act like he awful 'fraid of somthings."

"Yes, I'll go with you at once," I answered going with her toward the door. "But, Katie, this man isn't working in Sag Harbor, now, is he? I thought he left several years ago."

"Sure, he go way right after he com here last time," my little maid answered. "He say he shoot 'coon back today, and I think from way he act, you can't get salt on here coattails ven he get out by our door. Dot poor bunch of soup greens, he run scared Chink."

Despite my anxiety I smoothed a smile from my face with difficulty, for Katie's version of American slang expressions is weirdly original. And then we were at the kitchen door, and Katie whispered: "Disappointment."

"You no need be 'fraid, I told Jeem say right dete by kitchen and vatch every move dot Chink make."

"He wouldn't hurt anybody, Katie, I'm sure," I whispered back reassuringly, but my little maid tossed her head with a ludicrous air of sapience.

"You no can tell from outside," she said. "He look as ef he wouldn't say 'Moo' to a cow, but he might be beeg lung man, you no know."

But the frail Chinese who stood patiently waiting for me in the kitchen, was no "beeg man" either of a tone or any other society. He was the humblest of roles in any drama, but I decided that Kate was right in one particular. The man was sorely frightened.

"Good-afternoon," I said, trying to put a note of cheeriness into my less as he replied in the slow, clipped utterance of the lower class of Chinese.

"You Misses Graham," he said, and the words were an assertion instead of a question. "You know us time before?"

"Yes, I remember you," I answered, breathlessly. "Do you com from Lee Chow?"

His eyes were suddenly filmed. "No, and not good any name."

"What do you mean?" I demanded, but he only shook his head and reiterated his monotonous reply.

"No good any name."

"Why not?" I persisted, and he answered me apologetically.

"Had propes to like. Must no say name, ever."

"But I must till I find out what you want," I told him, speaking slowly in the hope that he might understand half of what I was saying. "When you were here before, you brought me a message from Lee Chow about his employer, Mr. Hugh Grantland. Do you com from Mr. Grantland now?"

Again his head moved from side to side.

"No, no and not good say that name either."

My head was in a whirl. If he had not come from Hugh or Lee Chow, what in the world could he be errand with me? I would not give up my quest for information regarding Hugh without another effort however.

"I won't say it again if you'll answer one question," I persisted. "Do you know anything about Mr. Grantland? Where he is, if he is alive—or dead?"

I brought out the word fearfully, with a queer little superstition to the man. He came a step closer to me and said in low significant tones. "You have box here, papers inside. You give to me."

How to End Painful Piles Without Natives or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salve or cutting remove the cause. Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggists with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and Henry & Cooper invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery. Adv.
